ABOUT THE ESTATE

The 415 families who are lucky enough to live on Cornwall Hill Country Estate in Centurion, Pretoria, enjoy a peaceful way of life. The style of the homes in Cornwall is a mix of English Country and modern styles. The sizes of the stands range from 890 to 10,000 square meters. The southern edge of the Estate is the Hennops River, which is a great spot for family picnics or braais. People who live in this remote area can explore it on foot, by bike, or on horses.

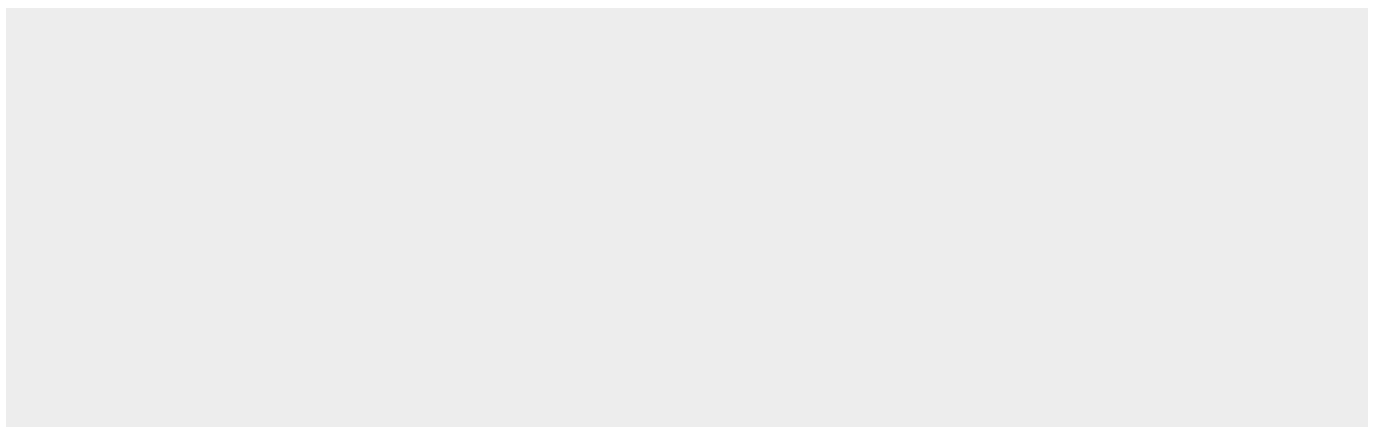

You can go to the famous Cornwall Hill College, which has had a 100% matric pass rate since it opened, without leaving the Estate. This makes it very safe and easy for primary and secondary school students to do a variety of school activities.

Residents can easily get to Pretoria or Johannesburg since they live close to the R21. It's easy to go shopping because Irene Village Mall and Southdowns Shopping Centre are close by. Along with the N1, the N14 and the N1 North and South are also close to the area.

At Cornwall Hill Estate, safety is very important. There are many ways to make sure that visitors and workers are closely watched. The company in charge of protection also works with other business and residential estates in the area. The Cornwall Police Department and the neighborhood Community Policing Forum get along well.
