This well-kept 4-bedroom family home is perfectly situated on a quiet street, right across from a park. You have to see this one-of-a-kind home because it looks great from the street. Having trees that are already there gives the front of the house more protection. Since all the living spaces are downstairs, it's easy to have people over, and the covered patio and yard are just outside.

The beautiful kitchen also has a built-in stove and is very light and airy.

This estate is perfect for living in because it is close to the famous Irene Farm Villages and easy to get to for companies in both Pretoria and Johannesburg. It is a place that is good for families and tries to fit both young and old. Pets are welcome, and the goal is to support a safe, luxurious, and relaxing way of life where overall safety and a balanced way of life are important to the owners.
