This house is a real work of art!

The big open floor plan on the ground floor, along with the patio, braai area, and pool deck, make it a great place to hang out with family and friends. The walk-in cold room in the scullery is a unique and useful feature that makes it easier to store food and drinks. As well as a sauna, the top floor has a library area that can be used for peaceful relaxation. It's nice to come home to the master bedroom at the end of the day because it has its own bathroom and changing area. There is more privacy and ease of use in this home because each of the other two bedrooms on the upper floor has its own bathroom and changing area. The separate flatlet with its own door and 4-car garage is a great way to get extra space for guests or to rent out. Lastly, the fact that this masterpiece has living rooms and a well-kept garden makes it even more useful and beautiful.
