This gorgeous four-bedroom house is in Dainfern Valley Estate and sits on a meadow. You can get to the heart of the house through a beautiful water feature. It has an open floor plan and a modern kitchen, a large scullery, and a laundry room. There is a gas stove in the large living room. This house has both casual and formal eating rooms, and it's great for relaxing and having people over. The family room opens up to a huge patio with a beautiful 16-meter lap pool and a built-in bar. There is also a closet for guests and a lot of space for an office, home gym, movie theater, or wine cellar, which is also easily turned into a fifth guest suite. The four large bedrooms with private bathrooms are on the second floor and have solid wood floors. Every bedroom has a beautiful view from its balcony and a luxury bathroom right next to it. This house has a separate apartment for staff that has a kitchenette and a bathroom with its own entrance. There are also three extra-large automated garages with extra storage room and backup power from solar panels and an inverter. The rent amount does not include the estate levy.
