The entirety of the inside of this beautiful four-bedroom house has been redone. This home is filled with natural light and is the epitome of luxurious estate life. The bright and airy interior is made even better by an open floor plan and double-height ceilings. The house is perfect for hosting parties because it has a chef's kitchen, a great open-plan living area, and an entertainment area that flows right out onto the yard. Large windows let in a lot of natural light and make it easy to move from inside to outside. It has five bedrooms, all of which are good sizes and have their own bathrooms with nice finishes. There is also a separate flatlet that can be used as a fifth bedroom. There will be room for staff, a double garage, and a power backup system put in. There is a choice for partially furnished. The rent amount does not include estate levy.
