Extremely luxurious house with views of the Magalies mountains that might grow into a four-story hotel.

This classic product is made with exceptional quality and attention to detail, blending indoor and outdoor spaces with a gorgeous, peaceful garden full with birds.

This incredibly beautiful modern home in a quiet setting was designed by the highly regarded architects Carmel Back and Handini, and it makes a captivating first impression.

Clean lines, glass, space, massive double volumes, natural marble and engineered wood flooring, big windows, and spacious living rooms are just a few of the striking architectural characteristics.

Super safe entryway that opens into a large automobile court with a chandelier like the Kigelia Africana tree.

Sliding doors between the two distinct entrances of the two apartments beautifully combine the two into one. There are floating staircases leading to each of the upstairs wings.

The pool, waterfall, and picture-perfect landscape are all accessible from the reception area. This is the ultimate luxury entertainment room, with a separate entertainment wing flowing outdoors to a large covered patio, jacuzzi, braai area, pool with a gorgeous deck, surrounding water features, and an indigenous garden with magnificent bird life.

Windows framing stunning views of the garden encircle the contemporary kitchen with white Caesarstone countertops.

The main wing has three en suite bedrooms and a pyjama lounge. A true highlight is the opulent main bedroom, which has an amazing shower, dressing room, and open-air terrace.
