The property of San Martin is in the heart of the Aragonese Pyrenees, in 92 hectares of beautiful stepped hillside and forest. The coniferous vegetation and abandoned villages make for spectacular views from the mountain above to the valley below. The property dates back over 1,000 years. The current stone building has been recently restored with care in order to offer all the comforts of modern life in an elegant rustic environment. The beauty of the local stone is immediately apparent, shown off to greatest effect by discreet flood-lighting at night. Balconies and terraces provide an opportunity to sit and take in the ever-changing mountain scenery, particularly at night when shooting stars abound. Distributed over four floors, the eleven suites confer big capacity to the house.
